Welcome to RPD 2023 - Rapid Product Development!

Integrated into Moulds Event 2023, RPD 2023 aims to surpass the achievements of previous editions. RPD 2023 serves as an international platform for knowledge exchange, bringing together active participants in the fields of Sustainability and Industrial Transformation.

Scheduled for November 20th and 21st, 2023, RPD 2023 will provide an opportunity to present, discuss, and evaluate various aspects within these global trend areas. The event will serve as a prominent forum for debate and will consist of two primary discussion panels:

- 1. Sustainability: This panel will delve into topics related to Ecological Transition and Industrial Transformation, exploring the economic and social dimensions of industrial competitiveness.
- 2. People and Technology – Path to Innovation: Here, discussions will revolve around Developing People for Industrial Digital Acceleration and Additive Manufacturing & New Competencies for Industrial Competitiveness.

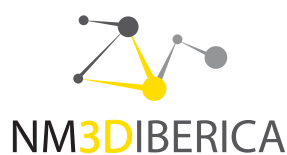

RPD 2023 also offers an excellent occasion to discover new business opportunities and initiate research collaborations and future projects.

The RPD 2023 organizing committee greatly values your contribution to the success of this event.
